

TRANSACTION MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

Abstract of the Disclosure

5 Methods, apparatuses and systems facilitating and enhancing processes associated with financial transactions. The present invention monitors and manages transaction-level work flows, and facilitates coordination of the tasks and operations associated with financial transactions. Embodiments of the present invention also allow for automation of various deal management, collateral analysis and due
10 diligence processes associated with financial transactions. In one embodiment, the present invention facilitates tasks and processes associated with the purchase and sale of whole loans.

15